Use Of Yank GIs In Indochina Seen

Official's Statement Bringing Hot Bipartisan Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top administration official's declaration that American troops might be used in a last-ditch effort to save Indochina today brought prompt challenges from both Republican and Democratic lawmakers.

The official, who demanded that he remain publicly unnamed (the Times of London reported him to be Vice President Richard Nixon) despite calls for disclosure of his identity so that he could be questioned by Congress, said he believes Indochina can be saved from the Communists by other means without employing U. S. combat units there.

But he said that if French forces should withdraw, an event he called unlikely, this country would have to send in troops. He said this was because (and he repeated the words of President Eisenhower) "we cannot afford any retreat in Asia."

His statement included a prediction the French government is "going to be putting on the pressure" to negotiate an Indochina truce with the Communists at the April 26 Geneva Conference.

It was his opinion, the official said in a clear indication of American opposition to such a move, that such a truce would deliver Indochina to the Communists.

ALTHOUGH the official's declaration was regarded in some quarters as reflecting a National Security Council decision, the purported policy was challenged immediately by Republicans as well as Democrats.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), a Senate Foreign Relations Committee member, said he doesn't believe any decision has been made to use American troops in Indochina under any circumstances.

"If we have such a policy, I'd like to know about it," Hickenlooper said, "but I don't think we have."

Sen. Long (D-La.), a former Armed Services Committee member, said no U. S. troops should be sent to Indochina without a congressional resolution approving it. And he said he would vote against any such resolution.

President Eisenhower told his news conference Feb. 10 that no one could be more bitterly opposed to getting the United States involved in a hot war in Indochina than he was. Consequently, he said every move he authorized was calculated, as far as humans could do it, to make certain that does not happen.

The storm over the Indochina statement overshadowed a controversy over President Eisenhower's pledge yesterday that the United States will maintain a "fair share" of troops in Europe for joint defense of the continent "while a threat to that area exists."

THE PRESIDENT'S declaration, issued from his vacation headquarters in Augusta, Ga., was addressed to the prime ministers of the six nations involved in the projected European Defense Community. U. S. officials indicated it was aimed at encouraging the reluctant French to join EDC.

Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said he was asking Secretary of Defense Wilson to describe the nature of the commitment.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.), a Foreign Relations Committee member, predicted there will be discussion in the Senate of what he said was the administration's failure to tell members of the Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees about the issue.

Rebels Tighten Ring Of Steel Around Fort

Indochina Defenders Unable To Dislodge Foe, 800 Yards Away

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Vietminh attackers tightened their steel ring around Dien Bien Phu today and stabbed to within 800 yards of the key center area of the French Union fortifications.

Garrison soldiers, backed by planes and tank and artillery fire, counterattacked against the Communist-led rebels at all points.

Relentless French drives against infiltrating Vietminh units entrenched on the northern part of Dien Bien Phu's main airstrip failed yesterday to route them.

Meanwhile, the French Press Agency said Communist-led Vietminh jungle fighters had stopped a Cambodian train with mines and slaughtered more than 100 passengers.

The agency gave this account of the massacre reported to have taken place Monday on the Phnom Penh to Battambang line 60 miles from the capital of that Indochina kingdom.

THE TRAIN was stopped by the explosion of several remote-controlled mines and many coaches were overturned.

Five hundred Vietminh attackers rushed from the surrounding jungle brandishing knives, rifles, handgrenades, sub machineguns and regular machineguns.

Wounded persons in the coaches were sprayed with gasoline and burned to death. Passengers who tried to flee were caught and put to death with knives. Old people and children were slain.

At the airstrip, the rebels clung to dugouts just 800 yards (Continued on Page Two)

Rain 'Glad Sight' For Farm Agent

Pickaway County Farm Agent Larry Best, cheered by Friday's off-and-on rainfall throughout the day, declared it "a world of good" for dried out farmlands. Rainfall for the day was measured here at .86 inch.

"It was sure a glad sight," Best said, "and I know a lot of it went down into the subsoil. For the first time this year I saw puddles of water standing in the fields—and that's something we want to see every now and then for awhile."

Criminal Prosecution Hinted Coming From Housing Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole says early criminal prosecutions may develop out of a "full administrative cleanup" of the scandal-shocked Federal Housing Administration. He also promises new top level firings.

Cole summoned to a strategy council this afternoon key officials of the Justice Department, the Internal Revenue Service, and his Housing and Home Finance Agency which has jurisdiction over the HA.

President Eisenhower yesterday armed Cole with a directive to all federal agencies to cooperate fully with the administration's probe of alleged multimillion dollar rackets under the FHA's loan insurance program in the home repair and apartment construction fields.

Two congressional committees are set to open public hearings next week in parallel investigations of the FHA, and the Eisenhower order directed federal cooperation with these groups also.

COLE ANNOUNCED yesterday that Burton C. Bova had been "placed on leave" after he had refused to quit as FHA general counsel. Cole said that "in the next few days we will make such other re-

Leistville Adds Up 3 More Accidents

"Dead Man's Crossing" At Leistville, Helped Along by a Dismal Downpour, Did Its Best to Live up to Its Reputation Again Friday Night.

Three accidents in the space of two hours involved four autos directly and caused at least four others to run off into ditches. An all-day rain had made the roads slippery.

At approximately 5 p. m. William T. Towns, 29, of Macon, Ga., was traveling north on State Road 159, towing a house trailer with his late model truck. According to State Patrolmen Carl B. Wolfinger and Bob Greene, Towns claimed another car was weaving towards him from the opposite direction.

At the junction of State Road 56 he put on his brakes but his trailer jackedknit into the rear of his truck.

BEFORE TOWNS could stop he tore through five lengths of fence and broke three posts on the Paul A. McKenzie property, according to the state patrolmen. Only other damage to truck and trailer was minor.

No sooner had the patrolmen left the scene when, at 6:15 p. m., they received another call. A car driven by Robert L. May, 18, of Adelphi, had been traveling east on 56. He told Greene, who investigated, that his car went out of control on the wet highway.

Greene reported that May's car tore up 50 feet of fence and some posts on the Charles Morris property before smashing into a telephone pole. The pole broke in two and the phone company had to be called out on immediate repairs.

May received only minor bruises and abrasions and required no treatment.

Two other cars approaching the scene of May's accident collided. A car driven by Marie G. Colleton, 44, of Laurelville, smashed into the rear of another car driven by John F. Smith, 46, of Dayton.

Smith told Wolfinger, who had been called back to the site, that he had approached "Dead Man's Crossing" on 56 when he saw a number of cars. He applied his brakes, he said, to slow down.

The Colleton woman told the patrolmen that she didn't notice Smith slowing down. She is being accused of having an improper operator's permit, police said. Smith received a bump on the head but did not require medical attention.

Greene commented that at least four other cars drove into road-side ditches trying to avoid the accident scene. Greene said he had a difficult time keeping traffic moving at the intersection.

Free Chest X-Rays Scheduled For District Areas Next Week

Residents of Pickaway County will be offered another opportunity to get a free chest x-ray next week.

Monday through Saturday, the Pickaway County Tuberculosis and Health Association will sponsor its annual x-ray survey. It will cover several other district communities in addition to Circleville.

The x-ray survey is made possible by the public's support of the Christmas Seal campaign each year.

The mobile x-ray unit will be set up in high schools for the different localities, and residents are urged to have their x-rays made while the unit is in their own area. However, in addition to this arrangement, the unit will be located at Clifton Motor Sales in Circleville for two days for the general public.

DURING THAT two-day period, residents can come for their x-rays from all over the district—if for some reason they couldn't have them taken in their home vicinity. All food-handlers in restaurants, grocery stores, lunch rooms and the like are urged to have their chests x-rayed during the coming visit.

Schedule for the mobile unit is as follows:

Monday: Williamsport High, including students brought from Monroe High, 9 a. m. to 11 a. m.; New Holland High, including students from Atlanta High, 1:30 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Tuesday: Circleville High, including students from Jackson, Salt Creek, Pickaway, Washington and Wayne, 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.; Ralston Purina, 3 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Wednesday: Commercial Point (Scioto) High, including students from Darby and Muhlenberg, 9 a. m. to 11 a. m.; Ashville High, including students from Walnut, Madison, Duvall and South Bloomfield, 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. and 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Thursday: Container Corporation, 7 a. m. to noon; Eshelman Mill, 3:30 p. m. to 5 p. m., and 6:30 p. m. to 7:30 p. m.

Friday: Lincoln Plastics, 7 a. m. to 8:30 a. m.; Clifton Motor Sales, Circleville, 10:30 a. m. to 1 p. m., 2 p. m. to 5 p. m., and 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Saturday: Clifton Motor Sales, Circleville, 9 a. m. to noon, 1 p. m. to 5 p. m., and 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

For The Story Behind "These Days" read Sokolsky

George E. Sokolsky, the King Features writer who brings the story behind-the-story to The Herald's readers each day, discusses the Oppenheimer case in today's issue.

In his widely-read column, "These Days", Sokolsky stresses the point that if J. Robert Oppenheimer has been a bad security risk—either through misconduct, stupidity or malfeasance—the American public has the right to know it as soon as possible. The Herald's top flight columnist doesn't seek to judge the famed scientist in advance, and in fact emphasizes that Oppenheimer has yet to be proven guilty.

But he drives home the point, as only Sokolsky can do it, that further secrecy in the matter can only make a bad situation worse. Men make mistakes, he reminds his readers, and during wartime emergencies they make serious mistakes. But:

"That is no crime if the motive was not treacherous. What is wrong, is to keep the people in ignorance and doubt."

For important details that are being brought out by Sokolsky today for the first time in connection with the Oppenheimer case, read "These Days". You'll always find this sure-fire feature on The Herald's editorial page.

Hydrogen Bomb Fears Mingle With Rejoicing

Christian World Plans Varied Services To Hail The Risen Christ

NEW YORK (AP)—Easter of the H-bomb era will be observed around the world tomorrow with prayers for peace and salvation.

Rejoicing that Christ is risen mingles with fears that man has fashioned a weapon that could doom civilization.

The hope of men, women and children at Easteride was that the occasion never would arise to unleash the bomb's fury.

President Eisenhower, on whose shoulders rests much of the free world's burden of preventing war, will attend services in Georgia.

In Rome, Pope Pius XII will appear on the loggia of St. Peter's basilica, to impart benediction to the world.

The Christian feast of Easter, by unusual coincidence, comes this year on the same day as the Jewish feast of Passover, which commemorates the flight of the Israelites from Egypt.

DR. ISRAEL Goldstein, president of the American Jewish Congress, said in a Passover message that the feast, to Jews, "is a 5,000-year-old rite commemorating the brave free spirit which conquers their lives and thinking."

Although the Holy Land itself is torn with Jewish-Arab tension, church bells will call worshippers to service as usual on Easter in old Jerusalem, scene of the crucifixion and resurrection.

Across the United States, hundreds of thousands of worshippers will attend outdoor or indoor sunrise services. A number of the outdoor services, mostly Protestant, will be on hill tops.

In a traditional gay note, women will don their new finery. The weatherman promised "ideal" conditions for New York's annual "Easter Parade" on Fifth Avenue.

NBC-TV will televise on its network scenes from Park Avenue at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel from 12 noon to 1 p. m. EST, but none of the networks planned any telecasts of the Fifth Avenue procession.

They were mindful of criticism they received two years ago that the Fifth Avenue TV pickup was turned into a commercial spectacle by publicity-minded people pushing into camera range to advertise various wares.

What is claimed to be the biggest Easter egg in the world, 12½ feet long and nine feet wide, is on display in Red Cloud, Neb., for an annual Easter egg hunt that attracts some 3,600 children.

MINDEN, NEB., known as the "Christmas City" because of its brilliant lighting at Yuletide, is branching out this year with an Easter lighting display expected to rival the Christmas show.

In Washington, three military sunrise services are scheduled—by the Army, in gardens at the Walter Reed Medical Center; by the Navy, on grounds of the Naval Medical Center; and by the Air Force, at Bolling Field.

Nearby, the Grand Encampment, Knights Templar, will sponsor sunrise services at the Arlington National Cemetery.

In Boston, the Navy will continue (Continued on Page Two)

Ohioan Returns From Red Zone

BERLIN (AP)—Sgt. Eddie J. Brown of Cleveland has turned himself in to U. S. Army authorities here after more than three years in the Soviet zone.

Headquarters said Brown, 33, had been absent without leave from his unit in Munich since Jan. 15, 1951. He told investigators he spent the period of his absence in the Russian zone. The Army said he returned voluntarily. Brown is being held by military police pending disposition of his case.

Louisiana Senator Planning Drive For New Cut In Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Long (D-La.) said today he may propose a new broad-scale reduction of excise taxes in the Senate debate on the House-passed general tax revision bill.

But Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Senate Finance Committee, now conducting hearings on the revision measure, indicated he did not think such a plan would get far in his group.

"I do not think the committee is going into the question of excise taxes again after just passing a big excise bill last month," Millikin said. However, he declined to predict what the full Senate might do.

Congress late last month OK'd an excise tax cutting measure that trimmed $1 billion worth of a year off excises on scores of items. The general revision bill now in the Senate does not deal with excises.

Long, a finance committee member, said he had been much impressed by recent views of some economists that an additional cut of about $1 billion in excise taxes on "necessities" would give a needed boost to the nation's economy.

THE LOUISIANA senator said he was not committing himself to any specific rate reductions or any particular over-all cut in revenue. But he said he was thinking in terms of the elimination or a reduction in the 10 per cent excise on television and radio sets, wiping out of the remaining five per cent levy on household appliances and a cut in the present 10 per cent excise on automobiles.

The American Medical Assn. today endorsed a provision to allow taxpayers to deduct medical expenses above three per cent of their income, instead of the five per cent required under present law. The three per cent rate is in the revision bill as passed by the House.

In a letter to Millikin, the AMA said the change would allow a family of four with taxable income of $6,000 to save enough extra to pay for nearly four months of both hospital and surgical coverage.

Air Force Fires 78 In Red Cleanup

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has reported the dismissal last year of 24 civilians and 54 uniformed personnel accused of links with Communist or Red-tinted organizations.

Air Force officials also told a House appropriations subcommittee in testimony made public today that another 150 military personnel were separated "for somewhat closely related reasons" and that an additional 104 such cases are under study.

Radio-TV Log Ban Explained By Editor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Coleman Harwell of the Nashville Tennessean told the American Society of Newspaper Editors here today why Nashville's two dailies, the Tennessean and the Banner, have stopped printing daily television and radio listings. The answer, he said, is that daily logs cost much money and effort, outlays which properly are "the responsibility of the TV and radio stations themselves."

It does not make sense, Harwell suggested, that newspapers provide gratis the listing of programs for which the broadcasters "are paid by commercial establishments from advertising appropriations for which those same newspapers are competing."

"When it comes to news on the air, such as a presidential speech or the McCarthy-Stevens hearing, of course we print them," Harwell said. "But the routine listings are something else again."

"When the local movie theaters have Audrey Hepburn or Jimmy Stewart on their screens, they pay to announce the fact in the papers. 'Then why should papers tell the public for free where they can find or not find (which is often more important) Arthur Godfrey or Liberace?'"

3 Lima Bar Aides Face Sentences

LIMA (AP)—Three persons were convicted yesterday of contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old boy who is now serving a year in prison for manslaughter.

Mrs. Hazel Bubb, a bar operator; John Bubb, her former husband; and Miss Betty DeWitt, a waitress at Mrs. Bubb's bar, were convicted by juvenile court jury of contributing to the delinquency of Benjamin F. Schellenberger. The youth is in Mansfield Reformatory for manslaughter in the death of Charles Alsept, 37, Lima, who was killed March 20 when struck by Schellenberger's auto. Mrs. Bubb is scheduled to appear May 13 in municipal court for selling liquor to a minor.

NEW YORK (AP)—Easter of the H-bomb era will be observed around the world tomorrow with prayers for peace and salvation.

Rejoicing that Christ is risen mingles with fears that man has fashioned a weapon that could doom civilization.

The hope of men, women and children at Eastertide was that the occasion never would arise to unleash the bomb's fury.

President Eisenhower, on whose shoulders rests much of the free world's burden of preventing war, will attend services in Georgia.

In Rome, Pope Pius XII will appear on the loggia of St. Peter's basilica, to impart benediction to the world.

The Christian feast of Easter, by unusual coincidence, comes this year on the same day as the Jewish feast of Passover, which commemorates the flight of the Israelites from Egypt.

DR. ISRAEL Goldstein, president of the American Jewish Congress, said in a Passover message that the feast, to Jews, "is a 5,000-year-old rite commemorating the brave free spirit which comminates their lives and thinking."

Although the Holy Land itself is torn with Jewish-Arab tension, church bells will call worshippers to service as usual on Easter in old Jerusalem, scene of the crucifixion and resurrection.

Across the United States, hundreds of thousands of worshippers will attend outdoor or indoor sunrise services. A number of the outdoor services, mostly Protestant, will be on hill tops.

In a traditional gay note, women will don their new finery. The weatherman promised "ideal" conditions for New York's annual "Easter Parade" on Fifth Avenue.

NBC-TV will televise on its network scenes from Park Avenue at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel from 12 noon to 1 p. m. EST, but none of the networks planned any telecasts of the Fifth Avenue procession.

They were mindful of criticism they received two years ago that the Fifth Avenue TV pickup was turned into a commercial spectacle by publicity-minded people pushing into camera range to advertise various wares.

What is claimed to be the biggest Easter egg in the world, 12½ feet long and nine feet wide, is on display in Red Cloud, Neb., for an annual Easter egg hunt that attracts some 3,600 children.

MINDEN, NEB., known as the "Christmas City" because of its brilliant lighting at Yuletide, is branching out this year with an Easter lighting display expected to rival the Christmas show.

In Washington, three military sunrise services are scheduled—by the Army, in gardens at the Walter Reed Medical Center; by the Navy, on grounds of the Naval Medical Center; and by the Air Force, at Bolling Field.

Nearby, the Grand Encampment, Knights Templar, will sponsor sunrise services at the Arlington National Cemetery.

Ohioan Returns From Red Zone

BERLIN (AP)—Sgt. Eddie J. Brown of Cleveland has turned himself in to U. S. Army authorities here after more than three years in the Soviet zone.

Headquarters said Brown, 33, had been absent without leave from his unit in Munich since Jan. 15, 1951. He told investigators he spent the period of his absence in the Russian zone. The Army said he returned voluntarily. Brown is being held by military police pending disposition of his case.

Hydrogen Bomb Fears Mingle With Rejoicing

duct sunrise services at 5 a. m. aboard the frigate Constitution.

A half hour earlier, non-denominational services will be held at the Cathedral of the Pines, Rindge, N. H., on a knoll cleared of giant pines by the 1938 hurricane.

In remote little mountain villages in Northern New Mexico, the Penitent Brotherhood observed the Easter season without its former physical excesses, such as self-flagellation.

Members of the order once believed only blood could atone for their sins. The group, long outlawed, was recognized by the Roman Catholic Church in 1947 and since has been required to keep its rites within moderation.

AN ATTENDANCE of 50,000 to 100,000 is expected at the annual sunrise Easter services and pageant in the Wichita Mountains near Lawton in southwestern Oklahoma. There will be 62 scenes and hundreds of persons in the Holy City pageant.

The Shrine of Ages on the south rim of the Grand Canyon will be the scene of a colorful sunrise service to be conducted by Gov. Howard Pyle of Arizona.

On the summit of Hot Springs Mountain in Arkansas, the Hot Springs Choral Club will present its 20th annual Easter sunrise service.

A 150-voice choir of soldiers stationed at Fort Hood, Killeen, Tex., will sing at Easter services at Fort Hood Stadium. A cast of 100 persons will present a sunrise Easter pageant in Laurel Land Memorial Park, Fort Worth.

More than 20,000 persons are expected to attend the eighth annual Easter sunrise service at Natural Bridge, Virginia's famed natural wonder near Roanoke. Sunrise services will be held also at Swananoa, an impressive manor house on the edge of the Blue Ridge Parkway near Waynesboro.

Five hundred worshippers on horseback will attend a traditional service at Lakewood, a suburb of Denver, Colo. The mountainous state will have other services at the park of the Red Rocks, west of Denver, and in the Garden of the Gods near Colorado Springs.

List To Mount

CANTON (AP)—Unemployment in Canton will continue to mount through April, the Ohio state employment service predicts.

duct sunrise services at 5 a. m. aboard the frigate Constitution.

A half hour earlier, non-denominational services will be held at the Cathedral of the Pines, Rindge, N. H., on a knoll cleared of giant pines by the 1938 hurricane.

In remote little mountain villages in Northern New Mexico, the Penitence Brotherhood observed the Easter season without its former physical excesses, such as self-flagellation.

Members of the order once believed only blood could atone for their sins. The group, long outlawed, was recognized by the Roman Catholic Church in 1947 and since has been required to keep its rites within moderation.

AN ATTENDANCE of 50,000 to 100,000 is expected at the annual sunrise Easter services and pageant in the Wichita Mountains near Lawton in southwestern Oklahoma. There will be 62 scenes and hundreds of persons in the Holy City pageant.

The Shrine of Ages on the south rim of the Grand Canyon will be the scene of a colorful sunrise service to be conducted by Gov. Howard Pyle of Arizona.

On the summit of Hot Springs Mountain in Arkansas, the Hot Springs Choral Club will present its 20th annual Easter sunrise service.

A 150-voice choir of soldiers stationed at Fort Hood, Killeen, Tex., will sing at Easter services at Fort Hood Stadium. A cast of 100 persons will present a sunrise Easter pageant in Laurel Land Memorial Park, Fort Worth.

More than 20,000 persons are expected to attend the eighth annual Easter sunrise service at Natural Bridge, Virginia's famed natural wonder near Roanoke. Sunrise services will be held also at Swananoa, an impressive manor house on the edge of the Blue Ridge Parkway near Waynesboro.

Five hundred worshippers on horseback will attend a traditional service at Lakewood, a suburb of Denver, Colo. The mountainous state will have other services at the park of the Red Rocks, west of Denver, and in the Garden of the Gods near Colorado Springs.

Reds Lauding New Star In Kremlin Galaxy

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia's highest public honors and a rousing burst of praise in the Moscow press marked the 60th birthday today of Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev, the rising star in the Kremlin galaxy.

Khrushchev, white-thatched and blunt-talking, is the man to watch. His fortunes have risen steadily, especially since the death of Stalin a year ago. His words are carrying increasing weight in the high Soviet councils.

Moscow dispatches reported the press accolades for Khrushchev were particularly enthusiastic. Soviet bigwigs always get special attention on their decade birthdays, 50th, 60th, 70th. Similar praise greeted the 50th birthday of now Prime Minister Georgi Malenkov in 1952 when his star was just beginning to be seen over the horizon. The same went for Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov when he was 60 in 1950 and for Lazar Kaganovich, first deputy prime minister, when he was 60 last year.

A large portrait of Khrushchev was read across two columns on the front page of Pravda, organ of the Soviet Communist party, and other newspapers in the Soviet capital. Beneath the picture was a warm, congratulatory message from the Soviet government and the Communist party. Then followed the text of a decree awarding him the highest Soviet civilian decoration, the Order of Lenin.

The Australian ladybird beetle once saved the citrus industry of California coast. The beetle was introduced in San Francisco to counteract an insect war on the orange and lemon groves. The beetle did a good job.

Autos Collide, Unable To Stop, On Wet Street

Slippery streets resulting from Friday's rain set the stage for an accident at Court and Walnut Sts.

Five women riding home from work at the General Electric plant were traveling south on Court when their car approached a stoplight at Walnut St. The driver, Isabelle Williams, 33, of Chillicothe, told Sgt. Turney Ross and Officer Russ Ogan she applied her brakes for the light.

Raymond Jarrell, 26, of Emma, Ky., driver of the second car, was immediately behind the Williams machine, he told the officers.

Jarrell said he thought the first car stopped too fast and that he was unable to avoid the collision. His wife and five-month-old baby were shaken up.

THE FOUR passengers in the first car reported to Berger Hospital.

Paty Allen, 20, of Chillicothe, complained of a strained neck muscle; Mary Drumm, 34, of Circleville, back injuries; Bessie Huffer, 40, head contusions; and Barbara Allen, 21, of Circleville, mild contusion of the neck.

None of the women were hospitalized and all were soon released, the hospital reported.

Jarrell was accused by police of failure to keep assured clear distance. The front bumper of his car was torn off and there was damage to the rear of the other car.

Pre-Trial Data Ban Idea Hit By Editors

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's editors were told today that proposals before the New York State Bar Assn. to ban the release of pre-trial information on criminal cases would jeopardize both freedom of the press and the right of fair trial.

Robert C. Notson, managing editor of the Portland Oregonian, reported on the New York proposal to the American Society of Newspaper Editors as the group neared the close of its annual meeting.

Notson attacked the proposal as a "regression in Democratic process" which "should be resisted by every citizen who believes in free institutions, including members of the bar."

The ASNE Committee on Freedom of Information yesterday listed the New York lawyers' resolution among recent developments in several states, which threaten "the people's access to their courts."

Notson said the alleged justification for the clampdown proposal is to prevent "trial by newspaper." This, the Oregon editor declared, is a "badly overworked smear phrase, frequently the alibi for losing counsel."

Actually, Notson said, "investigations of newspapermen and their cooperation with law enforcement officers have resulted many times in the conviction of the guilty and the freeing of the innocent."

Without public knowledge of the evidence and the investigation, he added, the public cannot judge the work of its law enforcement officers, prosecutors and judges.

"Such a law as that now proposed could be very useful to arbitrary, stupid and corrupt officials in evading a proper accounting for their acts," Notson said.

Ohio Solon Calls For Federal Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) has called on the administration to take "at least some preliminary steps to restore prosperity in the United States."

In a House speech this week, Hays said he failed to see the basis for the "current optimism" over economic conditions.

At first, he said, "We were told that in March we would see a start back to full prosperity and full employment. Now we are told it might be Labor Day. If people can just hold on and find a way to eat between now and Labor Day if they do not have a job, why every thing will work out fine."

Sunrise Services Start Calvary EUB Easter Celebration

The celebration of Easter Sunday at the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church will begin with a sunrise service to be conducted in the church at 6:30 a. m. The regular morning worship service will be conducted at the usual hour of 9 a. m. The Sunday Church School will follow at 10 a. m.

The sunrise service is being conducted by the Youth Fellowship of the Calvary Church. Miss Marjorie Conrad, president of the local Youth Fellowship, will preside over the service.

The Christian Carols Choir, directed by Mrs. Richard Crawford, will sing several anthems during the sunrise service. The selections will include the following numbers as arranged by Roy E. Nolte: "Easter We Hail Thee," "On Calvary," "Great is the Stone," "It is yet Dark," and "Who is He that Overcometh?"

At the 9 a. m. service of worship the pastor, the Rev. James B. Recob, will preach from I Peter 1:3 which reads: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! By His great mercy we have been born anew to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead." The topic of the sermon will be, "A Living Hope."

A special sermonette will be delivered by the pastor to the children of the children's department who will be present for part of the service of worship.

The Choir will sing two anthems during the service. They are "Christ Is Risen" by Emerson and "Legende" by Tschakowski.

During the church school period, which will follow the morning worship service at 10 a. m., lessons studied will be based upon St. John 20:21. The theme of the lesson material is: "Christ the Living Lord."

Mr. Dale De Long is general superintendent of the Calvary Sunday Church School.

All persons in the Circleville vicinity who are without a Church home are cordially invited to attend the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church for worship, study and Christian fellowship.

An Easter Pageant Highlights Sunday Methodist Service

Methodists will hold three services Easter Sunday morning.

Members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will conduct the 6 a. m. Easter Sunrise service in the church sanctuary. A highlight of the service will be the Easter pageant, "The Divine Miracle."

Barbara Culp will read the Call to Worship. Roger Magill will lead the congregation in the Affirmation of Faith. A chorus of MYF members will present an anthem. Lura Purdin will read the story of the first Easter from the Holy Scriptures. Ellis Couch will lead the congregation in prayer and Jerry Johnson will lead the group in the Youth Fellowship benediction.

Members of the pageant are: Lee Risley, Ann Risley, Nancy Barnhill, Sally Clifton, Diane Mason and Roger Southward. Mrs. Roloff Wolford, MYF advisor, has assisted the young people with the pageant. Ushers for the early sunrise service will be young men of the senior high MYF.

Other youth groups in the community are invited to attend the sunrise service and to join with the Methodist Young People at the Easter breakfast which will follow the service in the church dining rooms. Parents of the young people will prepare the breakfast.

"Our Inheritance of Hope" will be the sermon topic which the Rev. Robert B. Weaver will deliver at both the 8 a. m. and the 10:30 a. m. Easter services. Using the Easter story as the basis of the sermon, the Rev. Mr. Weaver will develop the theme that the Easter message is one of hope for every man in the present century. Through Christ, every man has an inheritance of hope both for the life hereafter and for the present. Through Christ, every man can have an eternal hope which will lift him out of despair into triumphant daily living.

Church Of Christ Announce Sermon At Sunday Service

"A Peculiar People" is announced as the sermon topic for study Sunday at the Church of Christ, meeting at 159 E. Main St. Bible study for all ages will begin at 9:45 a. m. and regular worship at 10:30 a. m.

The scripture text for this lesson will be taken from Peter's statement to Christians: "But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light: which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God; which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy." (1 Pet. 2:9-10).

In commenting on this lesson, evangelist Charles Cochran says: "God's people have always been considered peculiar or strange by others. In New Testament times the church was referred to as 'the sect which is everywhere spoken against' (Acts 28:22). They were charged with (1) worshipping contrary to the laws of the fathers (Acts 18:13); (2) with teaching heresy (Acts 24:14); (3) with teaching customs unlawful for the people to observe (Acts 18:21); and (4) with turning the world upside down (Acts 17:6). Any of these charges would injure, if it did not ruin, the influence of the person or persons against whom they were made. But, that 'sect' which was everywhere spoken against was the only institution ever started or supported by Christ, and with divine approval."

"Today many people are made to wonder why Churches of Christ do not observe special days of world-wide religious significance such as 'Easter.' We have no Bible authority for so doing. The word 'Easter' is found one time in the King James translation (Acts 12:4). Scholars say this is a mistranslation and should be 'Passover' as it is so rendered by other translations. There was no such day observed by early Christians. Today churches of Christ observe every first day of the week in memory of Christ's resurrection as did the early Christians (Acts 20:7)."

5 Services Form Full Program For First EUB Church

Five services are scheduled in the First Evangelical United Brethren Church on Easter, beginning with a Sunrise Praise Service at 6 a. m. and closing with a musical, "Peter and the Resurrection," at 8 p. m.

The Youth Department will direct the sunrise service with Pat Nau, a student at Capital University, playing the organ prelude "Open The Gates of the Temple." Elliott Hawkes will preside by issuing the call to worship and offering the Prayer of Invocation. The congregation will sing the hymn, "Christ Arose," followed by the "Easter Story" from St. Mark 16:1-14, read by Tommy Valentine.

Bonnie Meadows will play the "Lord's Prayer" to introduce the prayer period, after which Carl Gene Porter will lead in the Prayer of Praise and Thanksgiving. Fern, Leona and Velma Wise and Ruth Styers will sing "Our Lord Is Risen from the Dead."

"Come, See" is the meditation selected by the Rev. Carl L. Wilson. Fred Brown, a student in Otterbein College, will sing a solo to close the service.

Following the service, a Fellowship breakfast will be served in the Christian Service Center. A free-will offering will pay the expense of the breakfast.

At 9 a. m. the Sacrament of Holy Baptism will be administered to infants, older children and adults. Miss Lucille Kirkwood will play the organ prelude, "Cherubim Song" by Bortniansky-Tschakovsky. Following the Invocation, the congregation will sing the hymn, "Savior, Like a Shepherd Lead Us." The Scriptural Exhortation from Psalm 128, and the prayer will be given by the pastor. Delores Jean Valentine will sing the solo, "There's a Friend for Little Children," after which the pastor will deliver the Dedication Meditation, "Jewels from Heaven."

Thirty-five members have designated a desire for baptism with each service personalized. The pastor will be assisted by Altar Boys Jeffrey Dunlap and Gary Sims. Applicants will be seated in reserved pews under the direction of Virginia Wise, who will serve as registrar.

The regular Unified Worship Church School begins at 11 a. m. with Mrs. Verneal Thomas playing the organ prelude, "Risen Today" by Lorenz.

Others having part in the worship are: Anne Adkins, Bob Lamb, Lizzie Musser and Elaine Burkhardt. Still others will help with ushering and with the Easter breakfast which will be served at 7:30 a. m. in the Social Rooms.

An hour of study of the Easter Bible Lesson will begin at 9:30 a. m. in the regular Sunday school class rooms.

The second worship service will begin at 10:30 a. m. during which the choir will sing the Easter Cantata, "Death And Life". Mrs. Clark Will directing. The solo parts will be sung by Mr. Don Meyers, Mr. James Carr, Mr. Melvin Yates, and Mrs. M. W. Burkhardt. Organ numbers will include: "Resurrection Morn", "Easter Morning" and "Hallelujah Chorus."

Members of the Catechism Instruction-Class will be received into full membership in the Church. Adult members will also be received and the Sacrament of Baptism will be observed.

Excerpt from Teachings of the BAHAI FAITH

"The religion of God is One Religion, and all the prophets have taught it, but it is a living and growing thing, not lifeless and unchanging."

"In the teaching of Moses we see the Bud; in that of Christ the Flower; in that of Baha'u'llah the Fruit. The flower does not destroy the bud, nor does the fruit destroy the flower. It destroys not, but fulfills. The bud-scales must fall in order that the flower may bloom, and the petals must fall that the fruit may grow and ripen."

"Were the bud-scales and the petals wrong or useless, then, that they had to be discarded? Nay, both in their time were right and necessary; without them there could have been no fruit."

"So it is with the various prophetic teachings; their externals change from age to age, but each revelation is the fulfillment of its predecessors; they are not separate nor incongruous, but different stages in the life history of the One Religion, which has in turn been revealed as seed, as bud and as flower, and now enters into the stage of fruition."

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—John 19:41-42; 20-21.

By Alfred J. Buescher

On the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene went early to Jesus' tomb; she found the stone rolled away and the tomb empty. She ran and told Simon Peter and John, and they looked, found the tomb empty as Mary had said.

Peter and John went home, but Mary returned to the tomb and saw two angels who asked her why she wept? Because her Lord had been taken away, she said. Turning she saw Jesus, but did not know Him until He spoke her name.

In the evening of the same day, as the disciples were assembled with the doors locked because they were afraid of the Jews, Jesus stood in the midst of them, saying, "Peace be unto you, and showed them His hands and side."

Thomas, who was not present when Jesus appeared to His other disciples, doubted His resurrection, but when the Lord again appeared and Thomas saw His wounds, he too believed.

Sunrise Services Start Calvary EUB Easter Celebration

The celebration of Easter Sunday at the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church will begin with a sunrise service to be conducted in the church at 6:30 a. m. The regular morning worship service will be conducted at the usual hour of 9 a. m. The Sunday Church School will follow at 10 a. m.

The sunrise service is being conducted by the Youth Fellowship of the Calvary Church. Miss Marjorie Conrad, president of the local Youth Fellowship, will preside over the service.

The Christian Carols Choir, directed by Mrs. Richard Crawford, will sing several anthems during the sunrise service. The selections will include the following numbers as arranged by Roy E. Nolte: "Easter We Hail Thee", "On Calvary", "Great is the Stone", "It is yet Dark" and "Who is He that Overcometh?"

At the 9 a. m. service of worship the pastor, the Rev. James B. Recob, will preach from I Peter 1:3 which reads: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! By His great mercy we have been born anew to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead." The topic of the sermon will be, "A Living Hope."

A special sermonette will be delivered by the pastor to the children of the children's department who will be present for part of the service of worship.

The Choir will sing two anthems during the service. They are "Christ Is Risen" by Emerson and "Legende" by Tschakowski.

During the church school period, which will follow the morning worship service at 10 a. m., lessons studied will be based upon St. John 20-21. The theme of the lesson material is: "Christ the Living Lord."

Mr. Dale De Long is general superintendent of the Calvary Sunday Church School.

All persons in the Circleville vicinity who are without a Church home are cordially invited to attend the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church for worship, study and Christian fellowship.

An Easter Pageant Highlights Sunday Methodist Service

Methodists will hold three services Easter Sunday morning. Members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will conduct the 6 a. m. Easter Sunrise service in the church sanctuary. A highlight of the service will be the Easter pageant, "The Divine Miracle."

Barbara Culp will read the Call to Worship. Roger Magill will lead the congregation in the Affirmation of Faith. A chorus of MYF members will present an anthem. Lura Purdin will read the story of the first Easter from the Holy Scriptures. Ellis Couch will lead the congregation in prayer and Jerry Johnson will lead the group in the Youth Fellowship benediction.

Members of the pageant are: Lee Risley, Ann Risley, Nancy Barnhill, Sally Clifton, Diane Mason and Roger Southward. Mrs. Roloff Wolford, MYF advisor, has assisted the young people with the pageant. Ushers for the early sunrise service will be young men of the senior high MYF.

Other youth groups in the community are invited to attend the sunrise service and to join with the Methodist Young People at the Easter breakfast which will follow the service in the church dining rooms. Parents of the young people will prepare the breakfast.

"Our Inheritance of Hope" will be the sermon topic which the Rev. Robert B. Weaver will deliver at both the 8 a. m. and the 10:30 a. m. Easter services. Using the Easter story as the basis of the sermon, the Rev. Mr. Weaver will develop the theme that the Easter message is one of hope for every man in the present century. Through Christ, every man has an inheritance of hope both for the life hereafter and for the present. Through Christ, every man can have an eternal hope which will lift him out of despair into triumphant daily living.

Church of Christ Announce Sermon At Sunday Service
"A Peculiar People" is announced as the sermon topic for study Sunday at the Church of Christ, meeting at 159 E. Main St. Bible study for all ages will begin at 9:45 a. m. and regular worship at 10:30 a. m.

The scripture text for this lesson will be taken from Peter's statement to Christians: "But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light; which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God; which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy." (1 Pet. 2:9-10).

In commenting on this lesson, evangelist Charles Cochran says: "God's people have always been considered peculiar or strange by others. In New Testament times the church was referred to as 'the sect which is everywhere spoken against' (Acts 28:22). We were charged with (1) worshipping contrary to the laws of the fathers (Acts 18:13); (2) with teaching heresy (Acts 24:14); (3) with teaching customs unlawful for the people to observe (Acts 16:21); and (4) with turning the world upside down (Acts 17:6). Any of these charges would injure, if it did not ruin, the influence of the person or persons against whom they were made. But, that 'sect' which was everywhere spoken against was the only institution ever started or supported by Christ, and with divine approval."

"Today many people are made to wonder why Churches of Christ do not observe special days of world-wide religious significance such as Easter." We have no Bible authority for so doing. The word "Easter" is found one time in the King James translation (Acts 12:4). Scholars say this is a mistranslation and should be "Passover" as it is so rendered by other translations. There was no such day observed by early Christians. Today churches of Christ observe every first day of the week in memory of Christ's resurrection as did the early Christians (Acts 20:7).

director of the church, has planned special music for the two services. Peter and John went home, but Mary returned to the tomb and saw two angels who asked her why she wept? Because her Lord had been taken away, she said. Turning she saw Jesus, but did not know Him until He spoke her name.

Egg Hunt And Tea Mark Episcopal Easter Festivities

St. Philip's Episcopal parish will begin its celebration of the Feast of Easter at 2 p. m. Easter Eve with a party and tea for the members of the Church School, their parents and guests. Following this event there will be a special egg hunt on the church lawn. The church school observance is under the direction of Mrs. Leota Sayre. The sacrament of Holy Baptism will be administered by the Rector at 4 p. m. in the church in observance of the ancient tradition of receiving new members into the church family on Easter Even.

The schedule for Easter Day will begin with a Festival Celebration of The Holy Eucharist at 7:30 a. m. at which time the choir of the parish, under the direction of Mr. Howard B. Moore, will sing a special setting to the service and an anthem suitable for the day. The introit anthem for the day will be, "Christ is Risen", by L. O. Emerson.

The younger members of the parish family will attend the children's service at 9 a. m., at which time the Lenten Mite Boxes will be presented and the story of the first Easter Day will be told.

At 10:30 a. m. there will be another festival service with choir members singing a special setting to The Holy Communion. The sermon at this service will be the same as at the 7:30 a. m. service. For this late service there will be a nursery program for children under the third grade age in the parish house under the direction of Mrs. William Radcliff.

THE REV. Joseph Bierce of Chattanooga, Tenn., above, an evangelist in the Church of the Nazarene, will be in charge of a song service each evening from April 21 through May 2 at the Circleville Gospel Center.

5 Services Form Full Program For First EUB Church

Five services are scheduled in the First Evangelical United Brethren Church on Easter, beginning with a Sunrise Praise Service at 6 a. m. and closing with a musical, "Peter and the Resurrection", at 8 p. m.

The Youth Department will direct the sunrise service with Pat Nau, a student at Capital University, playing the organ prelude "Open The Gates of the Temple." Elliott Hawkes will preside by issuing the call to worship and offering the Prayer of Invocation. The congregation will sing the hymn, "Christ Arose", followed by the "Easter Story" from St. Mark 16:1-14, read by Tommy Valentine. Bonnalee Meadows will play the "Lord's Prayer" to introduce the prayer period, after which Carl Gene Porter will lead in the Prayer of Praise and Thanksgiving. Fern Leona and Velma Wise and Ruth Stivers will sing "Our Lord Is Risen from the Dead."

"Come, See" is the meditation selected by the Rev. Carl L. Wilson. Fred Brown, a student in Otterbein College, will sing a solo to close the service.

Following the service, a Fellowship breakfast will be served in the Christian Service Center. A free offering will pay the expense of the breakfast.

At 9 a. m. the Sacrament of Holy Baptism will be administered to infants, older children and adults. Miss Lucile Kirkwood will play the organ prelude, "Cherubim Song" by Bortniansky-Tschakowsky. Following the Invocation, the congregation will sing the hymn, "Savior, Like a Shepherd Lead Us." The Scriptural Exhortation from Psalm 128, and the prayer will be given by the pastor. Delores Jean Valentine will sing the solo, "There's a Friend for Little Children", after which the pastor will deliver the Dedication Meditation, "Jewels from Heaven."

Thirty-five members have designated a desire for baptism with each service personalized. The pastor will be assisted by Altar Boys Jeffrey Dunlap and Gary Sims. Applicants will be seated in reserved pews under the direction of Virginia Wise, who will serve as registrar.

The regular Unified Worship Church School begins at 11 a. m. with Mrs. Vernel Thomas playing the organ prelude, "Risen Today" by Lorenz.

Following the worship, church school classes will meet in their rooms for the Bible study, "Our Living Lord." Classes will make preparation for the presentation of their annual Easter Building Fund gifts.

At 11:30 a. m. the church will worship in The Stewardship Hour when auxiliary organizations and church school classes will give their contribution to the Building Fund. Church members will place their Lenten Self-Denial offering before the altar for dedication.

Special music for this service will be provided by the Children's Choir and a double quartet composed of Joyce Troutman, Dotty List, Lois Wittich, Barbara Allen, James Dancy, Jim Palm and Walter Sieverts. Warren Leist will serve as organist.

Immediately following this service, the young people will sponsor their traditional Easter Fellowship breakfast in the Parish House. Everyone is invited.

Joyous Easter services will also be held at 8:30 a. m. and 10:45 a. m. The Rev. Mr. Troutman will speak on the theme, "I Know That My Redeemer Lives," based on Luke 24:1-10. Intern Kearns will serve as liturgist. Special music for the 8:30 service will be provided by the Senior Choir, under the direction of Carl Leist. They will sing "Spring Bursts Forth." At the 10:45 service, the Junior Choir, under the direction of Mrs. G. L. Troutman, will render the anthem, "Christ, The Lord, is Risen."

Special organ-piano music will also be featured at both services when Mrs. Carl Herrmann and Mr. Warren Leist combine their talents to render "Gloria," by Mozart, as a prelude and "Hallelujah Chorus", by Handel, as a postlude.

The offertory hymn will be, "Open The Gates of the Temple." The sacrament of infant baptism will be administered at the 10:45 a. m. service. Immediately following this service, there will be Holy Communion.

Sunday School will be held at the regular time of 9:30 a. m. In the adult department, a group lesson will be taught by Paul David Young.

Easter worship with infant baptism and Holy Communion will be held in Christ Church at Lick Run at 2 p. m.

GUESTS HAPPIER: CHURCH INCOME HIGHER WITH NEW MONROE TABLES

The above comments are typical of the thousands we receive from church people who have found in Monroe Folding Banquet Tables the happy solution to their problems in setting up and serving church dinners, etc. And the experience of Mrs. X could be that of any of these thousands of women connected with churches as well as many other institutions who have purchased Monroe tables, chairs, etc. There are probably more than one "Mrs. X" right in your community to whom we could refer you.

While helping serve a banquet to raise funds for her church a few months ago, Mrs. X noticed that the guests were crowded and uncomfortable and that it was actually impossible to seat all guests at one time.

Later, Mrs. X saw and answered one of our ads and was amazed to learn from our reply of the many exclusive advantages and the low, direct prices offered only on Monroe Folding Tables. After receiving the new Monroe Tables ordered by her church, Mrs. X wrote us that their members and guests are happier and with the increased attendance at their church affairs, their income is higher since they added their new Monroe Tables.

We know you, too, would like new, modern Monroe Folding Banquet Tables for your church, lodge, club, school, etc. Write us today for catalog and special discounts to institutions and organizations. Terms up to 2 years can be arranged, 6 months with no interest or carrying charge.

THE FULL MEANING

"IN BETHESDA, we live for the first time in 140 years in mortal fear from a foreign enemy." This is the opening sentence in a book just published by the research office of Johns Hopkins University which estimates the possible casualties and damage to the Bethesda-Chevy Chase area, adjacent to the District of Columbia, in the event of an H-bomb drop.

The book also provides a disaster plan which weighs objectively the chances of life and death under various conditions.

The book assumes that a hydrogen bomb is dropped near the White House and considers the effect the blast would have, at different times and with different degrees of surprise, on the two communities. In a night attack with no warning, 14,500 people would probably be killed and 37,500 more injured. No attempt was made to weigh the damage and casualty figures which would probably occur in the crowded D. C. area.

A daytime raid, the researchers assume, would cause even heavier casualties, with approximately 10 per cent more deaths. More people would be out and around and thus exposed to burns, shock and flying debris.

Given a 15 minute warning, deaths could be reduced up to 50 per cent, with proportionate reduction in the toll of injured. This figure brings into sharp focus the importance of the early warning system now being set up by the Air Force and what it can mean to a community.

Probably the Bethesda-Chevy Chase disaster plan, which covers the subject from every angle—and shows photos of projected blast damage on familiar landmarks and buildings—could be super-imposed on most American communities.

SOUNDS OF SPRING

SPRINGTIME to millions has no sweeter sound, bird calls included, than that produced by collision of bat against ball, particularly when the bat has been swung by a stalwart of the home team. Seasonable also are the noises of the crowd, the static of peanut shells, the chatter from the field, and the more subtle signs and sounds emanating from where the manager sits in the dugout.

Yes, this is a baseball editorial, a task almost as refreshing as writing the annual piece about the good things of Christmas.

With the sound of basketballs swishing through nets now temporarily muted, one may turn an ear to the baseball diamonds, where a new season is under way. Boy, a sack of those peanuts.

One relief authority proposes to put some of the clients to work. And bring traps back?

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

In his television reply to Edward R. Murrow, Senator Joe McCarthy charged that research on the hydrogen (thermonuclear) bomb had been delayed 18 months. The response was immediate and it was generally unfavorable to McCarthy on the assumption that he was making a wild, baseless insinuation.

Representative W. Sterling Cole, Chairman of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee of the Congress, immediately stepped into the breach and gave a forthright statement of the facts which established beyond doubt that there had been a delay. He, however, omitted any reference to Dr. Bruno Pontecorvo, the Italian scientist of British citizenship, one of the world's principal experts in this field, who deserted from our side and went over to the Russians. He has since been engaged in developing the hydrogen bomb for Soviet Russia.

Bruno Pontecorvo and a group of Italian scientists, Enrico Fermi, Edoardo Amaldi, Franco Rasetti and Emilio Segre, believed that they had invented some phases of all this work on atomic fission and thermonuclear fission. They had been assisted financially by a Dutch company and by an Italian entrepreneur, G. N. Gianin of Pasadena, California. They offered to sell their product to the United States Government for $10,000,000.

This was a patent suit involving an Italian patent and an American patent granted in 1940. The Atomic Energy Commission at first rejected their demands but took the product of their work. They were unable to sue in the courts because everything about the matter was so very top secret that a trial would have been impossible. In 1953, the Atomic Energy Commission settled this issue for $300,000.

It was too late so far as Bruno Pontecorvo was concerned. He had taken his wares and given them to the other side.

I add this item to the inquiry into the affairs of J. Robert Oppenheimer because it is time that every phase of this problem be studied.

The Atomic Energy Commission itself may or may not be a suitable agency to investigate and reach conclusions about Oppenheimer and the entire A.E.C. scandal, which includes the Klaus Fuchs and Julius Rosenberg espionage operations. If Oppenheimer is innocent, no justice will be done him by closed sessions and a white-wash; if he is guilty of misconduct, stupidity or malfeasance, the public ought to know. The A.E.C. investigation will sooner or later be followed by a Congressional committee investigation.

The story about J. Robert Oppenheimer and his brother, Frank, has been going the rounds since 1946. Testifying before the House Committee on Un-American Activities on June 14, 199, Frank Oppenheimer said:

"Mr. Russell (committee counsel). You stated this morning that when you joined the Communist Party you used the name Frank Folsom.

"Dr. Oppenheimer, May I correct that? I did not use the name Frank Folsom. When I joined the Communist Party, for some reason which I did not understand at the time and have never understood since, they requested that my right name and another name be written down. This seemed to me ludicrous. I never used any name but my own, and at the time, because of the fact it seemed so ludicrous, I wrote down the name of a California jail."

Normal Blood Pressure Varies

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PHYSICALLY and mentally, the borderline between the normal and the abnormal is indeed thin. One of the hardest tasks of medicine is to decide the line that divides the two.

This holds especially true in regard to blood pressure.

One of the most important questions that is asked a physician by his patients is what is normal blood pressure and what are high and low blood pressure.

Measured in millimeters blood pressure is usually measured in millimeters of mercury in both systolic and diastolic phases. The generally accepted upper limit of 140 to 150 millimeters mercury systolic and 80 to 90 millimeters mercury diastolic pressure is what most physicians consider normal.

However, many of these figures come from insurance company statistics, taken from young persons usually in the prime of life, and are not, therefore, applicable to the average person.

Ideal Blood Pressure
It is believed that the insurance companies' concept of the problem is often actually based on what is known as ideal blood pressure rather than normal blood pressure. It has, at times, been noted that pressures above 150 systolic and 90 diastolic were recorded in persons over the age of 50 who were in apparent excellent health and showed no evidence of any heart or blood vessel disease. More recent studies have shown that the average blood pressure, particularly the systolic pressure, increases with age, most often after the age of 50.

More Common in Women
Men are less likely to develop high blood pressure than women, and it is usually not the basis of their heart disease, although when they do develop it, it comes at an earlier age. In women, high blood pressure usually occurs after the age of 50, and often precedes a coronary heart attack.

It is important to remember that an isolated, single blood pressure determination taken in the somewhat strange surroundings of a physician's office is not always a true sample of the blood pressure. The patient's nervousness may have some effect on the blood pressure.

A true study can be determined only by repeated taking of the blood pressure by the physician over days and weeks under pleasant, relaxed conditions.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

PETE pulled over to the curb. "So you do have a heart, Miss Taber?" he said dryly.

She hurried herself at him, clutching his shoulders, pulling him toward her. "So that's what you wanted to find out? All right, I do have a heart! Does that please your smug, scientific mind? All right, I'll tell you something else. I'm in love with you and you know it too darn well—and now I suppose you're laughing inside that horrible frozen shell of yours, but I don't care—I don't care!"

His arm went around her. His breath came quicker, and his hand went tight on her shoulder. "Why did you do this to me?" he demanded.

She laughed aloud. "I do believe you love me," she cried. "You're fighting it—but it's no use at all, Peter Percy. Can't you see it's no use? Why don't you kiss me, and make it final!"

He kissed her once, his mouth hot against hers. She locked her arms around his neck and felt him quiver, then with an abrupt movement he sat straight and pushed her away.

"No," he was harshly brusque. "No—forget that happened, Ravel."

Her laughter rippled. "Darling, I shan't forget it and neither will you."

Gale had a brief set-to with Ravel over the matter of Christmas eggnog.

"We won't have any," Gale stated, with firmness that surprised herself. "I'm inviting Pierce Albright and Sally. Pierce is leaving for Texas the day after New Year's, Sewell said."

Ravel went over to see the way John-Mark was having his house renovated. He was upstairs shaving. When he came down she was in the smaller of the two parlors where the heavy furniture was covered with canvas and a man on a trestle was painting the ceiling. Ravel Taber sat on a shrouded sofa, eating an apple.

John-Mark ducked under a step-ladder and followed her gaze upward to where smoky grime was giving way to brightness under smooth strokes of the brush. "Better move before you get splattered," he suggested.

"Topsy!" Ravel snorted. "Of all the tiresome colors! You don't have any originality at all, do you Johnny?"

He shrugged, grinned, put on his new hat. "I'm on my way to do my 'Christmas shopping. What would you like to find in your stocking? A pair of brass knuckles or a pretty pink bottle of 'vitol'?"

"From you?" she snapped, "nothing!"

Ducking under the ladder she whirled out the door, crashing it shut behind her.

The painter jumped and stared. "A spitfire, ain't she?" He steadied himself on his perch. "I married one, too. Learned to duck mighty early. You'd better learn, too."

"Much obliged. I don't think I'll bother."

YOUR FUTURE
Your next year should see gains coming through travel and relatives. Today's child may be fairly fortunate.

For Sunday, April 18: Tact and conscientious work should get you through your next year. Also through hard work and an enterprising spirit, the child born today should win success.

FOLKS OF FAME—GUESS THE NAME

1—He was graduated from Harvard when he was 17, distinguishing himself by his remarkable memory and literary tastes. He was born in Dorchester, Mass., on April 11, 1794. He thought of studying law but on the advice of a minister he studied theology. His tastes were always those of the scholar, and after a little over a year he resigned his pulpit to accept a professorship of Greek literature at Harvard. He was elected to the House of Representatives, serving from 1825-35, when he was elected governor of Massachusetts. He was president of Harvard college from 1846 to 1849, where he brought about the foundation of the Lawrence Scientific school. He died in October, 1862, after establishing a reputation as orator such as few men have enjoyed. Who was he?

2—She was born in Rome, Italy, studied dancing and, at 16, she won the title Miss Rome. Then she was a model until 1949, when she made her motion picture debut in L'Elisir D'Amore. She really became famous for her role in stood holding her fur collar about her ears while he stoof his purchases. "Santa Claus loot," he explained, "I haven't any family of my own so I adopted the Tabers."

"Heavens, I suppose I should send something to those girls. I never know what to buy when they outgrow dolls. I suppose Harriet is still as horse-crazy as ever?"

"Harriet?" he repeated, confused. "Oh, I suppose you, too, call her Ravel. She was named after me. When she's 70 she'll look like me. And probably be a tough old individualist like me."

Yes, she would look like her grandmother, John-Mark decided. Already Ravel had the same imperious, falcon-like profile, the same arrogant cant of the head, the same half-contemptuous, terse way of speaking.

"She didn't get that silly horse-man's from me," the old lady went on. "She got that from her merry old devil of a grandfather—and I married him, heaven forgive me!—and from Pierce Taber. If Pierce hadn't spent all he had on horses Gale wouldn't be living in a cold, old ruin like that house. Here's where I live. Lock up your stuff and come in."

John-Mark went in. The apartment was too warm, too opulently furnished with the cluttered memorabilia of a long, selfish life. But he did not see the French cabinets, the oversize portraits, the gently fading Oriental rugs. He saw one chair. It had gilded legs and Dooley Taber was sitting in it.

She jumped when they came in and John-Mark saw the lavender shadows of weariness under her eyes. She exclaimed, "For goodness' sake!"

"Exactly," retorted the grandmother. "To what chance do I owe the honor of this visit? Not that I'm not delighted to see you, even in that rig."

"Oh, the uniform," Julia ran a hand over her skirt, absently seeming somehow confused. "I just dashed out. I have only 40 minutes, then I have to go back on duty. Where did you pick up Johnny, Mama Harriet?"

"He picked me up," Mrs. Morton Ravel laughed in a short bark, gave the girl's arm a dab of a pat, said, "Sit down boy. I'll get my hat off and fix us all a drink."

John-Mark found a chair that seemed fairly substantial, folded his topcoat and laid it beside him on the floor. Then he said gently, "Hello, Dooley."

"Hello, Johnny." She managed a smile that verged on the wan. "You surprised me coming in here. I didn't know you knew my grandmother."

"I have lived across the road from you since we were both born," he reminded her. "I've seen her over there at times but I never happened to meet her socially till I encountered her tonight in a florist's place. I brought her home and she insisted on my coming in."

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

Editor's Note: Every Saturday, Mr. Tucker answers readers' questions of general interest about national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent to him at 6308 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

WASHINGTON — "Don't you think," inquires Mrs. W. F., of Los Angeles, "that Secretary Dulles is making a mistake in insisting that France and England issue a warning to China on Indochina before the Geneva Conference? Won't they resent his action as dictation and interference with their affairs? And, of course, Senator Knowland's threat to cut off their money if they don't go along with us is extremely provocative."

Answer: France and England, or certain political extremists in those countries, may pull Uncle Sam's whiskers on the basis of the Dulles-Knowland ultimatum, as Mrs. W. F. suggests. They have been doing it since the end of World War II on far less provocation, and Charles de Gaulle, leader of the French anti-American bloc, did it during that conflict. It is a European habit.

IMPORTANCE — However, I agree with Dulles and Knowland for a combination of selfish and, in my opinion, statesmanlike reasons. The United States bailed out those countries in two global wars at a terrific sacrifice of lives and treasure.

We also stopped the onrush of Communist imperialism in Korea. As I have written before, Indochina is far more strategic and important territory than Korea ever can be. Dean Acheson wrote Korea off as unessential to our defense system and policy.

The threat of World War III exists in Southeast Asia. It is the duty and the responsibility of every free government to put out that fire before it becomes an atomic and H-bomb conflagration. A sharp and serious warning to the Reds, as well as preparations to back up that warning with force, may postpone or defer permanently another deadly holocaust.

It seems to me that European statesmen will be extremely shortsighted, if they cannot appreciate and act upon that elementary consideration.

By Ray Tucker

Eisenhower will make many more informal appearances on radio and television, as he did a few weeks ago when he spoke about our fears?," asks F. G., of Richmond, Va.

Answer: I understand that the President will try this experiment again. The response was overwhelmingly favorable. As European commander, and as President, Ike excels in expressing himself spontaneously. He speaks well and animatedly.

MISGIVINGS — But there are still Doubting Thomases in his inner circle. They think it undignified and dangerous for the President of the United States to discuss such grave questions as peace and war, prosperity and depression, McCarthyism and anti-McCarthyism.

The two schools, however, are trying to work out a definite program. When Eisenhower has to make a speech involving statistics, details of a legislative program and statement of basic foreign policy, he will read it or use a teleprompter. When he feels the urge for a friendly and inspirational talk, he will talk and walk into your living room.

When Hitler embarked on his first aggressive venture in the invasion of the Rhineland in 1935, his field commanders had orders in their pockets to call off the advance if the French showed any resistance. But when the French Foreign Office telephoned 10 Downing Street with a request for support in a clash with the Germans, the answer was negative.

Hitler's expansion, as well as World War II, might have been stopped then and there. I think that we may face the same problem and the same crisis now.

Rain Conspires Baseball Trials

Friday's rain soaked the ground at Ted Lewis Park so well that Pony League tryouts, scheduled for today, have been postponed.

Dick Boyd announced that the tryouts have been moved to Monday, April 19.

The times will remain the same, he added. For 13-year-olds, 9 a. m.; for 14-year-olds, 11 a. m.

Date Corrected

In Friday's article about films on "kid baseball" rules, the date the movies will be shown should have read April 21. They can be seen that Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m. at Circleville High School.

Derby Favorite May Emerge Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The classic field of 3-year-olds to tangle so far this season goes today in the $30,000-added Gotham Stakes at Jamaica, and from it a new favorite may emerge for the Kentucky Derby.

Sixteen sophomores were entered for the mile and one sixteenth duel, and 12 are nominated for the colorful derby classic in Louisville two weeks from today. If all start, the pot will total $39,500 with $28,650 to the winner.

R. S. Lytle's California flash, Correlation, currently the 2-1 choice in the derby future book, is in the field, but local oddsmakers were picking Fisherman and Errard King to battle for top honors.

Carmen Basilio and Pierre Langlois, both in top fighting form, meet tonight in a 10-round nationally televised middleweight bout.

Casey Stengel And His Yankees Just Keep Winning Every Year

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It looks already as if Casey Stengel, who has become the Bernard Shaw of the baseball world, is heading for another happy year.

"Oh, no, not again!" some fans are bleating—fans who take every victory by the New York Yankees as a personal tragedy.

The prospect of watching "the ol' professor" lead his coupon clippers to a sixth straight pennant strikes them as a catastrophe, and already they are helping "break up the Yankees before they break up baseball."

Each year the anvil chorus grows louder, and each year the world champions go right on proving why they are world champions. It has reached a point where the Yankees hardly need to rely on their players. They could win most games by putting nine empty uniforms on the field.

I must confess myself I have no fondness for the Yankees. To me a Yankee fan is just a man who puts security above everything else in life. But I can't see how anyone who loves baseball could escape a feeling of ungrudging fondness and admiration for Manager Casey Stengel.

The sport has done well by this graying clown prince with the mind of a philosopher. He has, as one writer said, "touched all the bases" in 44 years of playing and managing. He has collected a few oil wells along the way, and drags down maybe $100,000 a year, which is probably more than even Lassie earns.

But, at 63, "Ol' Case" can look back on many long years when he couldn't see the first division without a periscope.

Neither late success nor his years of defeat have affected the wry cheer of his outlook. He is neither a braggart in triumph nor a grumbler when things go sour. He has looked at life from all angles, enjoys it hugely and remains what he has always been, a rugged competitor.

The talk of breaking up his Yankees does rile him, however, and he regards it as utter nonsense.

"We play to win," he said the other night at a baseball dinner, thrusting out a jaw from a seamed face that looked as if it had been carved out of a walnut stump with a claw hammer. "and we're going to win that sixth one this year."

The talk was pure "Stenglese" a delightful riffling of his mind through 50 disconnected subjects. It was like listening to a shrewd and ageless child rambling to himself all alone.

Casey loves to talk and loves to double talk even more. He has a wonderful gift as a talker—the air of just being ready to disclose a tremendous secret, a secret he never quite gets around to telling.

At the end of his 45-minute talk at the baseball dinner, he had the guests helpless with laughter. But one, trying to sum up the gist of Stengel's speech, said:

"All I can figure out he really did was endorse the New York subway system and say that a player could hit farther if he ate steaks rather than hamburger sandwiches."

Stengel is a dinosaur, one of the last of the old time players, and is inclined to brood at times because every boy in America no longer dreams of a big league career.

"When a pitcher now can get $25,000 or better, why wouldn't any kid want to go into baseball?" he asked the other night. "What's wrong with that kind of money?"

Indians Face Series Against Cousin Chisox

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, who started the season by taking two games from Chicago, come up against the White Sox again today in a three-game weekend series.

With another defeat registered Thursday in Baltimore, the White Sox trail the American League with a 0-3 record.

The last place squad's manager, Paul Richards, said:

"We've played bad ball, but there's no reason to get panicky. We've played bad ball before and we'll play bad ball again."

Badly in need of batting practice, the Sox lost their chance for an extensive drill in Municipal Stadium yesterday because of foul weather. The rain also washed out the Indians' practice.

Chicago has tallied only six runs in three games, losing 8-2, 6-3 and 3-1. In Cleveland's three games, the Indians have run up 16 runs, 14 of them off the White Sox.

Richards plans to send right-hander Bob Keegan to the mound today to oppose the Indians' Art Houtteman, making his 1954 debut for the Tribe. Keegan appeared against the Indians Tuesday as a reliever. He pitched to three batters and two of them hit safely.

In tomorrow's doubleheader, Richards plans to use southpaw Billy Pierce and Jack Harshman, who lost to the Indians in that order when the season began.

Redlegs Set To Use Rookie Against Foe

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, the only undefeated club in the major leagues, put rookie Corky Valentine on the mound today in the first of a three-game weekend series with the Milwaukee Braves.

Valentine, born in Troy, Ohio, 24 years ago, is one of a trio of rookie right-handers Manager Birdie Tebbets is testing. George Zuverink and Rudy Minarcin will be sent through their paces next week.

Tebbetts has the power, as the first two Red victories clearly show. If he could get pitching, especially the right-handed variety, the Cincinnati club possibly could stay around first place longer than pre-season experts expected.

"We must have adequate pitching and to get it we'll need help from the rookies," Tebbetts said. "I only hope we are able to keep playing with as few postponements as possible. In that case I should be able to discover the answers I'm now seeking. This is the opportune moment for that."

Right-hander Lew Burdette, who won 15 and lost five for the Braves last season, will oppose Valentine. Tebbetts plans to start Howie Judson and Bud Podbielniak in tomorrow's doubleheader. Bud started the opening game in Cincinnati and Milwaukee would like to avenge that 9-8 loss.

Sokolsky's These Days

In January, 1946, a committee was appointed by Secretary of State James Byrnes, headed by the Under Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, to report on the international control of atomic energy. This committee appointed a Board of Consultants headed by David E. Lilienthal, then chairman of the TVA, and included among its members J. Robert Oppenheimer. This Board of Consultants prepared the Acheson-Lilienthal Report, which Bernard M. Baruch found inadequate when he was appointed to deal with the matter.

It seems to me the Oppenheimer case opens the way to a full investigation into all that happened in the matter of the development of atomic fission as a weapon of war, including the espionage efforts of the Russians, their use of Dr. Klaus Fuchs, Julius Rosenberg, etc., the rejection by some scientists of the American advantage of priority, the political activities of the scientists, etc.

Men make mistakes and in the hurry of wartime, they make serious mistakes. That is no crime if the motive was not treachery. What is wrong is to keep the people in ignorance and doubt.

St. Peter's in Rome is the largest cathedral in the world.

At the end of his 45-minute talk at the baseball dinner, he had the guests helpless with laughter. But one, trying to sum up the gist of Stengel's speech, said:

"All I can figure out he really did was endorse the New York subway system and say that a player could hit farther if he ate steaks rather than hamburger sandwiches."

Stengel is a dinosaur, one of the last of the old time players, and is inclined to brood at times because every boy in America no longer dreams of a big league career.

"When a pitcher now can get $25,000 or better, why wouldn't any kid want to go into baseball?" he asked the other night. "What's wrong with that kind of money."

Ty Cobb once praised Stengel as the greatest of all managers. Some New York Giant fans prefer to regard him as a lucky comic character actor compared to the late John J. McGraw. But whatever his final rating, he seems sure of a place eventually in the sport's Hall of Fame. It will be a lonesome day in baseball when "the ol' professor" hangs up his uniform forever.

Indians Face Series Against Cousin Chisox

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, who started the season by taking two games from Chicago, come up against the White Sox again today in a three-game weekend series.

With another defeat registered Thursday in Baltimore, the White Sox trail the American League with a 0-3 record.

The last place squad's manager, Paul Richards, said: "We've played bad ball, but there's no reason to get panicky. We've played bad ball before and we'll play bad ball again."

Badly in need of batting practice, the Sox lost their chance for an extensive drill in Municipal Stadium yesterday because of foul weather. The rain also washed out the Indians' practice.

Chicago has tallied only six runs in three games, losing 8-2, 6-3 and 3-1. In Cleveland's three games, the Indians have run 16 runs, 14 of them off the White Sox.

Richards plans to send right-hander Bob Keegan to the mound today to oppose the Indians' Art Houtteman, making his 1954 debut for the Tribe. Keegan appeared against the Indians Tuesday as a reliever. He pitched to three batters and two of them hit safely.

In tomorrow's doubleheader, Richards plans to use southpaw Billy Pierce and Jack Harshman, who lost to the Indians in that order when the season began.

Redlegs Set To Use Rookie Against Foe

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, the only undefeated club in the major leagues, put rookie Corky Valentine on the mound today in the first of a three-game weekend series with the Milwaukee Braves.

Valentine, born in Troy, Ohio, 24 years ago, is one of a trio of rookie right-handers Manager Birdie Tebbets is testing. George Zuverink and Rudy Minarcin will be sent through their paces next week.

Tebbetts has the power, as the first two Red victories clearly show. If he could get pitching, especially the right-handed variety, the Cincinnati club possibly could stay around first place longer than pre-season experts expected.

"We must have adequate pitching and to get it we'll need help from the rookies," Tebbets said. "I only hope we are able to keep playing with as few postponements as possible. In that case I should be able to discover the answers I'm now seeking. This is the opportune moment for that."

Right-hander Lev Burdette, who won 15 and lost five for the Braves last season, will oppose Valentine.

Tebbetts plans to start Howie Judson and Bud Podbielan in tomorrow's doubleheader. Bud started the opening game in Cincinnati and Milwaukee would like to avenge that 9-8 loss.

At the time of that hearing, the question of the relations of J. Robert Oppenheimer to Communist activities were freely discussed. In January, 1946, a committee was appointed by Secretary of State James Byrnes, headed by the Under Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, to report on the international control of atomic energy. This committee appointed a Board of Consultants headed by David E. Lilienthal, then chairman of the TVA, and included among its members J. Robert Oppenheimer. This Board of Consultants prepared the Acheson-Lilienthal Report, which Bernard M. Baruch found inadequate when he was appointed to deal with the matter.

It seems to me the Oppenheimer case opens the way to a full investigation into all that happened in the matter of the development of atomic fission as a weapon of war, including the espionage efforts of the Russians, their use of Dr. Klaus Fuchs, Julius Rosenberg, etc., the rejection by some scientists of the American advantage of priority, the political activities of the scientists, etc.

Men make mistakes and in the hurry of wartime, they make serious mistakes. That is no crime if the motive was not treacherous. What is wrong is to keep the people in ignorance and doubt.

State's New License Regulations For Food Service Get Jolt

Dr. Porterfield Relays Ruling, Urges Caution

Ohio's Health Chief Says Clarification Still Necessary

Hazy spots in the state's new license law to cover food-serving establishments took on a heavy fog Saturday, in Pickaway County and throughout the rest of Ohio.

Even those close to the regulations that went into effect early this year have hesitated to hand out pinpointed rulings on many complicated phases of the new statute, designed to enforce health standards for "all places where food is served" to the public. And now it's announced that many Ohio eating places may be removed from the license requirements under a new ruling by the State Attorney General's office.

Latest announcement of the new law's provisions came direct from Dr. John D. Porterfield, state health director. Presumably, city and county health department officials here have also received notification from the state health chief.

No more food service licenses should be issued to places where there is a doubt as to whether they are "holding out to the public," Dr. Porterfield said in a memorandum sent to all local health commissioners. This resulted from a recent attorney general's opinion relative to the authority to license food operations of county children's homes and infirmaries.

IN MAKING this opinion, the attorney general stated that "the entire definition (of a food service operation) is modified by the requirement that in each instance there must be a holding out to the public."

"While the decision was directed at children's homes and county infirmaries," Dr. Porterfield stated, "it has broad implications. Where there is any doubt as to whether there is a holding out to the public, it would be advisable that the health commissioner seek the opinion of the county prosecutor or the city solicitor."

This was the first official opinion issued by the attorney general relative to the new food service licensing law as passed by the last session of the General Assembly. This legislation transferred the licensing of food service establishments from the state fire marshal to the Department of Health.

The opinion, in effect, interprets the term "food service operation" used in the new law, to mean the same as the word "restaurant" as used in the old law.

"It seems on the basis of present information," said Dr. Porterfield, "to boil down to the frequency and number of visitors to a particular food service establishment, and it is exceedingly difficult to set down figures on this. Further clarification will be needed relative to these fringe operations."

SIX LETTERS TO LUCILLA

To My Beloved Wife Lucilla:

Glorious, is the news I send you today! Jesus lives! The Nazarene has triumphed, how I do not know, over the tomb. He whom I saw dead upon the cruel rack of the cross again walks the earth among the living.

Jesus lives, and though I have not seen the Nazarene yet this is true. And I have proof! It came about in this fashion:

The morning sun still stood just above the brink of the hills when, at my bidding, my friend Carus, the centurion, guided me to the sepulchre where Jesus had been entombed.

As we approached we saw the great rock with which the tomb had been sealed was rolled aside. The doorway gaped wide and the legionnaires who had been posted as guard there were wandering about in a dazed fashion.

Carus questioned them sharply and this was their astounding story: Sometime before, a mighty, unseen force had stricken them to the ground and when they recovered their senses the rock had been rolled away from the entrance and the body of Jesus had vanished from within the tomb.

Instead, the soldiers said, they encountered a being of dazzling brightness who assured them the Nazarene had indeed arisen from among the dead. All had seen this ghostly messenger, they declared.

I, myself, entered the tomb and as I stood within that empty vault I seemed to hear within me a voice which bade me return home and await the time when one of the followers of Jesus would come to me and explain the teachings of the Nazarene that I might, too, become a follower.

So, on the morrow I will take ship for Capri where I will ask an audience of the Emperor to beg him that he assign a greater hand than mine to fashion that statue he so desires. And then, home to you and the children!

Lucilla, you will find me a changed man. I no longer put great stock in fame and good fortune, not even the praise of our Emperor. I seek now only the truth and to live by it, and follow in the way of Jesus, with you by my side.

Your faithful husband, ARIUS

TV To Put Little Emphasis Upon Easter Fashion Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — Television hasn't forgotten the lesson it learned two years ago this Easter.

Critics charged then it went overboard in commercializing the after-church fashion parade along Fifth Avenue. The critics maintained the Fifth Avenue procession is based, historically at any rate, on the religious celebration of Easter and shouldn't be made a prop for a commercial fashion show.

So tomorrow there will be but one fashion telecast—in color by NBC-TV. And it will come not from Fifth, but from Park Avenue and the Waldorf Astoria. The time is 12 noon to 1 p.m.

The remainder of the TV networks are giving attention to other features. The only additional fashion program scheduled will be a radio description by ABC for a half-hour at 12:30 p.m. It will come from Fifth Avenue.

Otherwise, Easter observance on both radio and TV will include the traditional sunrise and other services plus some special features. ABC starts tonight at 10:30 with army sunrise services in Tokyo. The other services tomorrow morning are:

Radio:
7 a.m. Radio City Music Hall, New York, by NBC; Natural Bridge, Va., by CBS.
7:30 — Arlington Memorial Amphitheater, Washington, by NBC; Garden of the Gods, Colorado Springs, Colo., by CBS.

Charges Reduced

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—A charge of first degree murder against James E. Vaughters, 18, was reduced to manslaughter yesterday and he pleaded guilty in the slaying of Luther Cunningham, 43, in his pool-room in Wheelersburg Feb. 6.

Stamp Plan Set

CINCINNATI (AP)—Postmasters in Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana will get their stamps after May 1 from the regional postoffice in Cincinnati instead of Washington. The new move will save the government $12,000 annually.

Grow-little pigs-grow....

Young pigs will grow and grow as pigs never grew before if they are fed

NEW Red Rose PIG STARTER PELLETS

Creep feed these vitamin packed pellets to young pigs at 5 days of age. Your pigs will reach early weaning at 4 to 5 weeks, maintain rapid growth — and soon be on their profit way to pork chops.

RED ROSE PIG STARTER PELLETS help to grow young pigs in a hurry for this reason: they supplement the sow's milk, and supply additional vitamins and antibiotics which permit the litter to be weaned earlier without setbacks in growth. The high antibiotics and vitamin levels in RED ROSE PIG STARTER PELLETS help prevent scouring, insure against anemia and develop vigor.

Pigs fed RED ROSE PIG STARTER PELLETS grow more uniformly and reach market weights earlier. So, feed these pellets to your pigs. Remember, better pork profits come from better early feeding.
